

PECONIC BAY WINERY

Peconic Bay Winery is returning to simpler days on the North Fork.
For the month of February, we will introduce a complimentary tasting flight available to all guests.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: (1/27/12) Peconic Bay Winery is pleased to offer its guests the region's first truly complimentary tasting experience in many years.

The winery will pour a pre-set selection of both Nautique Wines and Peconic Bay Winery's estate-grown wines (a total of five) for customers for no charge, from 11am to 5pm daily, throughout the month of February 2012.

"I guess I'm feeling a little nostalgic," says Jim Silver, General Manager of Peconic Bay Winery, "In difficult times it's sometimes good to look back on the past and try to revive the fun and excitement of discovering new wines and new wineries to visit. I'm hoping to create new fans of our winery, especially visitors to the area that may have never been here before."

Peconic Bay Winery offers a large stable of fine wines, featuring blends from their "Nautique" label, as well as varied whites and reds from their traditional estate line. Whites include Steel-Fermented Chardonnay, La Barrique Chardonnay, and classic Riesling from old vines. Reds include the newly released 2009 vintage Merlot, a very full bodied, successful wine for this vintage. Bottles range from $18 to $56 each. Paid tastings, including a $14 "Reserve" tasting will still be available at all times. "What I love about this promotion is that it's all about the WINE – not music, not chocolates, not oysters, not cooking demonstrations – just great WINE." Mr. Silver continues. "I think anyone who sits for the tasting will realize, perhaps for the first time, what a terrific winery this is, and just how serious our winemaking has become."

To take advantage of a complimentary February tasting at Peconic Bay Winery one only needs to walk in. The offer will not be made available during the musical performances, but other by-the-glass specials will be in place at those times. The offer is not available to groups larger than ten but a special discount can be arranged with prior notice.
